Obama Signs Jobs Bill With Social Security Tax “Holiday” for Employers

On March 18, President Obama signed the Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment (HIRE) Act, one day after it received final approval by the U.S. Senate. The HIRE Act creates a limited social security tax "holiday" for the employer share of social security tax on wages paid to new hires who have been unemployed for 60 days and a separate business tax credit of up to $1,000 if those employees are employed for at least 52 weeks.

The aim of the Act is to free up funds for employers to hire individuals who have been out of work to fill new jobs and further stimulate the recovering economy. Go to <http://www.americanpayroll.org/newsroom/> for details on the significant impact the HIRE Act will have on payroll processing, depositing, and reporting.
